

TO: ALL OUR FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES IN THE UKRAINE

21 December 2023

Wishing you Seasonal Greetings and peace this Christmas

Dear member of the Endocrine community in Ukraine,

As your country heads into the second winter period overshadowed by war, the thoughts of everyone at the European Society of Endocrinology are with you, our colleagues and friends in Ukraine.

It cannot be stressed enough how impressed we are by your continuing efforts to give your best in taking care of your patients, in sometimes difficult and uncertain circumstances, and with undoubtedly personal situations that are affected by the ongoing conflict.

At the start of the Christmas period, I wanted to send you on behalf of your colleagues at ESE our very best wishes. I fully acknowledge that the normal wishes for a peaceful Christmas period and New Year 2024 may fall short in the present reality, but I nevertheless hope that this Christmas period will allow you to share time with family and friends, and that the sounds of conflict may be silenced during this period.

The European Society of Endocrinology remains at your service. Our commitment to provide Ukrainian endocrinologists with free membership and free access to our educational programs remains valid into 2024. The information below this message provides the link to the ESE events being organised in 2024, and the way you can register.

Merry Christmas,

Prof Jérôme Bertherat
President ESE
