Now Accepting Abstracts for ICN 2022

After the challenging times we have all been through, we invite you to share your latest research findings, in person, at ICN2022. We are looking forward to neuroendocrinologists from around the world, from seasoned experts to those at the start of their scientific careers, coming together for celebration of neuroendocrinology at ICN 2022 in Glasgow. To showcase your work, we would encourage you to submit an abstract for ICN 2022. Abstract Submission is now open, so share your results your insights and ideas. Make sure to submit your abstract as soon as possible as the deadline for submissions is Wednesday, February 16, 2022!
