

ECE 2024 NURSE PROGRAMME

Dear Nurse Colleagues

We are delighted to invite you to the 26th European Congress of Endocrinology (ECE) which will take place in Stockholm, Sweden. Our Nursing Programme will start on Saturday, 11th May with a half-day Pre-Congress Course which will be held jointly with the Swedish Endocrine Nurses Group, where we will share our collaborative work and expertise in Endocrinology and Diabetes. For the main ECE Nurse Programme, our two MDT symposia will bring the latest in the field of thyroid and multi-glandular disorders.

This year, we are very proud and excited to announce Kathrin Zopf as the recipient of the European Endocrine Nurse Award 2024. She will give a keynote presentation at our Meet The Nurse Expert session. The European Endocrine Nurse Award, the first international award for endocrine nurses, recognises excellence in endocrinology nursing practice, nursing research, nursing leadership, nurse training and patient engagement. It is open to all endocrine nurses and teams who have made a truly significant contribution to the advancement of endocrinology nursing through innovative and creative approach to patient care and engagement, service delivery, leadership, research and training. You can submit your nomination for this award online by following this link.

To get the full benefits of what ESE can provide for nurses in Europe, please join the ESE Nurses' Network. ESE membership for nurses is offered at a reduced rate of just €60 annually (€35 if you are also a member of an ESE National Affiliated Society and further reductions if you are from a low or middle income country or are an early career nurse). You can join now by completing the membership application form or find out more here. As an ESE Nurse Member, you are eligible to apply for the Nurses Grant or the Meeting Grant which, if successful, will give you 400 Euros to help cover part of the cost of travel, accommodation and the ECE 2024 registration fee. For the nurses grant, priorities will be given to those nurses who have an abstract submitted and accepted for presentation at the Congress.

You will find an overview of the ECE 2024 Nursing Programme below. We look forward to seeing you in Stockholm, Sweden to share our common interest and expertise in endocrinology, network with colleagues and to celebrate the advances in endocrine nursing.
